WHALEN'S FIRE. Tal d That They Would Probably Have to Pay Individually, the Costs in Mandamus Proceedings if They Continued Obstreperons

-Engel Dodged - Brice Telephoned For, To save its members from personal inconwenience the Council bowed yesterday to the nandates of the Supreme Court by concurring in several resolutions for the issue of bonds which have been held up since the beginning of this year. A warning came to them from Corporation Counsel Whalen in the shape of a letter, which was read to them as soon as they Mr. Whalen told them what they knew already, that the law required them to pass in reasonable time bonds authorized by the loard of Estimate to pay awards for properties taken by the city: that they have failed to observe the law, but have held up bonds since February, 1899, even; that divers proceedings have been brought against the members of the board as a board for peremptory mandamuses to compel them to obey the law: that a flood of such proceedings is to be expected; that the courts have the continuance of the work on the new East River bridge disclosed the fact that only nineteen members were present and voting, while twenty-two votes were needed to pass bonds. Councilman Francisco asked for "a call of the house" Acting Chairman Oakley ordered the sergeant-at-arms to close the doors and to send his assistants on a hunt for the missing to send his assistants on a hunt for the missing members.

"We have matters awaiting our attention which cannot be neglected, said Mr Oakley grimly 'You have all heard what the Corporation Counsel says. We have to pass these resolutions if it takes us all night."

Three members who had disappeared were Councilmen Conly, Cassidy and Engel. The first two were soon brought back, while their colleagues shouted and applauded. But Engel could not be found. By diligent use of the telephone it was discovered that Councilman Stewart M. Brice was at home at 584 Fifth avenue and willing to sacrifice himself in order to save his fellow members. At 420 o'clock he appeared and the Council was able to resume its proceedings.

peared and the Council was able to resume the proceedings.

The computatory passing of a number of held-up bond, resolutions ensued. A murnur of approval went through the room when Councilman Letch (Rep.) of Brooklyn said that all the pending bond resolutions had been held up in the Board of Aldermen, so that the Council had had no chance to act on them. After that nothing was heard but the calling of names by the clerk and the cries of "aye" by the members.

some the resolutions thus passed was one superpriating $250,000 for grade changes in the Bronx and another appropriating $147,078,84 for the acquisition of a court House site in The Bronx. There was a hitch when the vote was called on the resolution providing in The Bronx. There was a hitch when the wote was called on the resolution providing $2,045,424.62 to pay for land taken for the new East Side park at Pita and Sheriff streets. Several members thought it a great joke to vote no, and one councilman held out so that the resolution was temporarily lost to 21. On reconsideration the resolution was made a special order for the next meeting.

It took seven roll calls to pass a resolution providing $1,010,000 for the laying of a Seried cast from water main from Milburn to Spring Creek in order to relieve the water famine in Brooklyn. Councilman Francisco of Brooklyn said that three years ago it was possible to build a steel main for only $200,000, but that the Mayor had vetoed the measure passed for such purpose on a technicality.

"There is more in this that the people ought to know," Councilman McGarry blurted out.

"But I have to vote for the resolution, of course."

And so did all the others innails. An alternpt was made to appoint I dward McMann first assistant segreenial arms. Acting Chairman Onkley and others pleaded that McMann layered system months for nothing since the Ma or retused to swear him in, and that Corporation Counsel Wingler since the man boy e had a grievance having had a trotter turned down hunself, and McMann land delared that the Council had the leval right to make the appointment. But Councilman Doy e had a grievance having had a trotter turned down hunself, and McMann had decigned that the Council had the leval right to make the appointment. But Councilman Doy e had a gricyance, having had a protect turned down himself, and McMann got interest and east that a protect turned down himself, and McMann got interest as follows: $200,000 for buildings for the Botanical Gardens in Bronx Park; $318,000 for pumpling engines and a standpipe at Washington Bridge and Jerome Park; $200,000 for new repair shops for the Fire Department; $250,000 for the acousition of lands connected with the Croton watersheds.

Mr. Whalen's letter was read to the Aldermen, too, and Alderman Br daes said:

"I, for one, don't want to go into the courts," he said. "I don't want to pay $100 or $200 of my salary for fines, as some Councilmen had to do. And if it is vote for these resolutions or go to jail, I guess I'll vote for these resolutions." Resolutions providing for street gradings and the purchase of a court house site in The Bronx were passed without a dissenting vote and sent over to the Council. They had been held up since January and March, respectively. A resolution authorizing the use of a surplus of $144,840 belonging to the Street Cleaning eld up since January and March, respectively. A resolution authorizing the use of a surplus $144,649 belonging to the Street Cleaning epartments of the boroughs of Queens and ichmond, for replenishing the stock of the lanhattan department was lest by 19 adverse otes. The members from Queens voted no, though Alderman Goodman begged them forget the Blackwell's Island Bridge for once, few minutes later the board had to vote on resolution appropriating $100,000 for preminary work on that very bridge. Nothing as said, but seven members, not from Queens of Brooklyn, voted no and the measure was stonce more.

HEAPS OF TWENTIES HERE. Yesterday $420,000 in Bills Arrived at the Sub-Treasury.

A forerunner of the supply of notes of small denominations with which the United States Treasury will relieve the scarcity complained of by local bankers reached the Sub-Trassury yesterday in the shape of $420 000 in $20-gold certificates Deputy Assistant Treasurer Muhleman, in discussing the situation said "About the only relief to be obtained is under the act of March, 14, 1900, under the act of March, 14, 1900, which provides for the issue of greenbacks against deposits of gold. The smallest bills issuable under that law are of the ten-dollar denomination, so that to meet the demand for a smaller denomination than $10 the Treasury will have to resort to silver certificates, which can only be issued as the silver of the Treasury is increased of as the so-called Sherman Treasury notes are sent in for circulation.

Telegraphic transfers of currency by the Sub-Treasury yesterday included $50,000 to New Orleans and $50,000 to St. Louis, Payments on account of bond redemptions were $78,399 and upon Pacific coast gold checks $245,079.

TUESDAY, Sept. 25. While reduced prices were recorded for stocks in the early trading to-day, there was sub-Bankers sequently such a development of strength that the final figures for most of the issues dealt in were materially higher than those of yesterday. There was a considerable contraction in the dealings as a result of the decreased activity of the bear element. Uncertainty as to the position that would be assumed by important operators and capitalists recently returned from Europe was one of the reasons for the interruption of the bear campaign in stocks. For another thing a rally was considered due. Rates for money were unchanged and there was no special difficulty in securing accommodation. Nevertheless, it was common belief that rates would soon advance and that before long, also, lenders would discriminate more or less in collateral. The flow of money to the South and West continues and the Federal Treasury has been gaining cash again from the banks. The outlook is for a decline in the cash holdings of the banks for several weeks to come. Disbursement of interest by the Government Oct. 1 will be of some help, but the amount to be distributed here will be small compared with the amount that will leave this centre in the meantime. Bankers seem confident that while money rates may move up, there will be no actual pinch in money this fall Present conditions in money are certainly better than at the same season in former years. While more men may be induced to strike or coerced into stopping work, the anthracite miners' strike is already pronounced a failure. Efforts to involve railroad employees in the strike have not succeeded and are hardly likely to. The miners' strike was brought on by men, whose real motives are believed to have been hidden. Many of the miners have shown distrust of these men. It is probably safe to say that there will not be another strike in the anthracite regions in years. Labor generally throughout the country is well contented. There is plenty of work and the pay is good.

It is recognized that this is a time for earning and saving and not for striking. The business on the Stock Exchange while estricted was unusually well distributed. The largest transactions were in Sugar Refining, which lost fractionally in price. The effort was continued to force liquidation by a poel in the stock. News of the application for an injunction against the reduction in the price of gas in Chicago by the Municipal Gas Company, a subordinate company of the People's Gas Company, was followed by a demand for and an advance in People's stock. There was covering of shorts in Brooklyn Rapid Transit, with a substantial improvement in the price of the stock. There was a further fall in Tennessee Coal and Iron on the expectation that dividends would be suspended. Federal Steel gained a point and most of the other steel stocks advanced. Gains were accomplished by Union Pacific, Atchison, Northern Pacific, Burlington and Quincy, St. Paul and in fact nearly all the leading railroad shares. Reading first preferred was notably strong.
